What is Home Education?
A purposeful programme of education for a learner alternative to school attendance which is provided under the direction and supervision of the learner’s parents primarily in the environment of the learner’s home. The programme provides opportunity for a parent of a learner of a compulsory school going age (between 7 and 15) to provide education for his or her own children at home instead of sending them to school. Parents take charge of teaching lessons or even arranging for tutors if needed while evaluating progress and supervising social contacts.

Why Home Education?
Parents may choose Home Education for a variety of reasons and this may include their concerns about the social environment, some may want to ensure that their children are educated in accordance with their religious beliefs. Others believe their children will learn better through child-directed learning outside of a classroom setting, others may choose it for health problems.
