C# 12, TypeScript, JavaScript (ES6+), and jQuery (legacy support).

Blazor WebAssembly & Blazor MAUI (Mobile/Desktop): Unified front-end technology stack for hybrid cross-platform UX.

Xamarin Forms (phased out): Existing mobile apps remain operational during MAUI migration.

Progressive Web App (PWA) optimization for browser-installed experiences.

This planned evolution must introduce technical challenges such as:

- Shared authentication state across PWA and native instances
- Data synchronization when offline (via IndexedDB and SQLite)
- Managing push notifications through platform-native APIs vs browser APIs
- Managing multiple platform-specific publishing cycles

These complexities must highlight the need for a long-term development partnership, since the knowledge and infrastructure necessary to maintain and advance this multi-platform strategy exceed those typically found in standard web development or departmental IT operations.
